"Blossom Time"Interfraternity-Intersorority Ball
March 29 at Sir Francis Drake Hotel

"Blossom Time" will be the theme of the Interfraternity-Intersorority Ball which will take place Saturday, March 29, from 10 p.m. to 1 a.m. in the Empire Room of the Sir Francis Drake. Bob Searle's band will provide the music for the semi-annual affair. The dance is to be semi-formal—formals and dark suits. According to Norry Volk, chairman of the affair, the no-flower ruling will be strictly enforced.

Tickets for the ball are $3 per couple. They may be purchased through members of any of the on-campus service clubs, in the Associated Students office, Hut 4A, at the ticket booth, which will be open March 27 and 28 in the basement of College Hall, or at the door.

OPEN TO ALL

The dance is open to all students, whether or not they are members of a service club.

Handling publicity is June Cusio, Alpha Omega, Liz Wood, Sigma Delta Gamma, Helen Copus, Alpha Chi Alpha, and John Dieker, Kappa Omega. The ticket committee is composed of Barbara Litchfield, Kappa Theta, and Rosemarie Malone, Phi Lambda Chi.

DANCE COMMITTEE

The band arrangements were made by Harry Redlick, representative of Sigma Pi Sigma, and Adelaide Michelbrook, representative of Sigma Delta Gamma. Also working with Chairman Volk were Neil Agron, Sigma Pi Sigma, Jack Wendt, Phi Eta Chi.

The floor committee will consist of Norry Volk, Delta Phi Gamma, Harry Redlick, Sigma Pi Sigma, Doug Usedom, Phi Eta Chi, Lou McElroy, Delta Gamma Tau, Charlie Lembo, Beta Chi Delta, Dick Boyd, Alpha Zeta Sigma, and John Dieker, Kappa Omega.

Swain, Allard Nominated For Publications Board

At last Tuesday's meeting, the Board of Directors requested the Board of Publications to submit a list of eligibles for a vacant member-at-large post within the latter organization. Norma Swain and William Allard were subsequently recommended at a Board of Publications meeting later in the day.

The appointment will be made by President Don Johnson, but must be confirmed by the Board of Directors and a special publications sub-committee composed of an equal representation from the Board of Directors and the Golden Gater editorial staff.

'SWEET SHOP HOP' DANCE TONIGHT

Kappa Theta sorority will present "Sweet Shop Hop" tonight in the Rec Center on the old campus. Jimmy Blass and his band will provide the music for the affair.

Tickets for the dance will be 80 cents per person.

Carol Benefield, Marge Robson, and Jean Taylor are handling decorations; Candy Himes, Paula Long and Diane Wolfe are in charge of publicity; and Doris Cooney is managing the ticket sales.

Speech Tests For
Ed. Majors Start
Monday, March 31

All education majors will be required to take a speech proficiency test, the credentials office announced recently. The tests will be given March 31 and April 1, 2, 3 and 4, from 8 to 12 and from 2 to 4 in Frederic Burk. The room numbers will be posted Monday, March 31, outside of FB 117.

Those students not in Ed-Psych 100 must sign up for this test in the Credentials office, CH123. Direction sheets tell the requirements of the test will be passed out in the Ed-Psych 100 classes, or may be secured from the Credentials office.

The test will not exceed 10 minutes, and will consist of a two to three minute informal talk by the student on some subject of his own choosing, a one minute prose reading selected by the student before the examination, a short sight reading, and an informal discussion or conversation.

In making its judgment, the committee will take into account the total speech pattern and the personality of the candidate, bearing in mind the over-all problem of the relationship of the student's speech to his potential effectiveness as a teacher in his chosen field.

All Classes Canceled For Three Day Faculty Meet*Wilder Farce Part
Of Theatre Month*600 Groups Participate;
Play Ends Here Saturday

For the third year, International Theatre Month is being celebrated by theatre people the world over who this month devote educational, community and professional productions to plays stressing themes underlying the Universal Declaration of Human Rights.

In presenting its production of Thornton Wilder's "Skin of Our Teeth," the drama department here at State is joining 600 or more groups in this country, and many others abroad, to demonstrate the theme of International Theatre Month: "the Theatre promotes international understanding."

"The Skin of Our Teeth" continues its run tonight and closes tomorrow evening. Tickets are 60c with a student body card and 90c without. Performances start at 8:30 p.m.

Congratulating theatre audiences over the country who participated in International Theatre Month by supporting their local ITM production, Helen Hayes said: "Your own community can be proud of its share in this world-wide movement of International Theatre Month. But most of all, you, the audiences, are responsible for the success of International Theatre Month on a local, national, and world basis, for it is to the world's audiences this month that the theatre, the most human of all the arts, brings not only its entertainment and enlightenment, but, more importantly, understanding of our fellow man."

Starting Thursday, March 27, there will be an exhibit of model stages and sets made by Waldemar Johansen. These models, which have been exhibited internationally, are on display in the Activities Room.

State Baritone Singing At Oakland Restaurant

Another S. F. State student has cracked the field of professional entertainment, with a singing spot in an East Bay night club.

Baritone Dean Berg, 22, a radio major, is singing six nights weekly in one of Oakland's well-known restaurants. He is also this semester's Chief Announcer for KRTG, Radio-TV Guild.

Volk to Head Orientation For Fall Semester

Norry Volk was appointed general chairman of orientation for the Fall semester at the Board of Directors meeting Tuesday.

As chairman, Volk will coordinate all activities and student participation connected with the orientation and registration of new students, and appoint three sub-chairmen to be responsible for the organization and administration of the frosh camp, for on-campus orientation, and for registration. These appointments are to be subject to the approval of the Board of Directors.

Volk and his three assistants will be the committee on orientation to formulate plans for the above activities.

This new student orientation plan to coordinate all activities and student participation connected with the orientation and registration of new students was submitted to the Board of Directors, and approved by them, at a previous meeting.

Willis Wood, activities commissioner, obtained the board's consent to continue the public relations rallies in the East Bay high schools, providing the rallies which will be held in the San Francisco high schools are successful. John Bergstresser, dean of students, pointed out that continuing the program in the East Bay would be profitable to the college, inasmuch as more students from the East Bay were enrolled at State last year than from San Francisco. The public relations rallies will be held at Lincoln March 21, at Commerce March 28, at Lowell April 3, and at Mission April 11.

Safety Council Discusses Hazards on State Campus

At a recent meeting of the Health and Safety Council of San Francisco State College, the purchase of additional First Aid kits for Anderson Hall and Frederic Burk was approved by the council which is composed of both faculty members and student representatives.

Other safety problems discussed by the council included college bus double parking; poor lighting of Music Alley's back stairway; the unprotected hot water pipe in the Co-op; a raised cement stumbling block in the alley between the Rec Center and the Snack Bar, and metal stripping on the College Hall stairs. Provision for two large containers for cigarette stubs in the Student Activities Room was also approved.

The meeting was attended by Dean John L. Bergstresser, Margaret Leonard, Dr. Evelyn Ballard, Harry Brakebill, Dr. Wayne Britton, and Gertrude Luehning of the faculty, as well as several student group representatives.

California, will open the conference on Monday with an address on "Trends in Higher Education Supporting and Endangering the Democratic Ideal."

Classes, suspended during the three-day faculty conference, will reconvene on Thursday.

President J. Paul Leonard, in keeping with the opening day's theme, "Faculty - Administration Relations in a Democratic College," will speak on "Democratic Government in the College: Authority and Responsibility Within the State College System." President Leonard's address, which will treat the nature of the state college system and the place of the faculty and the administration within the system, is to be followed by faculty group discussions of problems raised by the speaker.

AFTERNOON SESSION

On Monday afternoon, "Problems of Democratic Administration" will be considered in perspective by John Butler, dean of student personnel, Donald Castleberry, social science division chairman, and faculty member, Florence Stephenson. A faculty group discussion on the topic will follow.

In the evening, a general faculty meeting has been scheduled to hear summary reports of group discussions, to discuss issues emerging, and to suggest possible lines of action.

STUDENT LIFE

Tuesday's agenda, calling for discussion of "Student Life in a Democratic College," features an address by Dean Bergstresser which will deal with various facets of the extra-curricular program and the importance of the program in student campus life.

Following, student-faculty relationships in and out of the classroom will be touched upon in a panel presentation and discussion. The panel, under the chairmanship of Dr. J. Fenton McKenna, will include selected faculty members and students.

The students who will participate include Don Johnson, student body president, Norma Swain, former editor of the Golden Gater, Larry Russell, and Jean Martins, one of the student representatives to the Model United Nations.

FACULTY MEETINGS

A general faculty meeting to discuss issues emerging from the morning address and panel has been scheduled for Tuesday afternoon.

A joint committee of the faculty and the Women's Faculty club, under the direction of Mr. Jules Irving, has planned a social program for Tuesday evening which will include a dramatic presentation, dance, card party, and swim.

"DEMOCRACY IN ACTION"

"Democracy in Action: Divisional and Interdivisional Programs" is Wednesday's theme. The faculty will meet by divisions or by division combinations to discuss their programs, plans, and processes in the light of the conference theme. A sub-committee of division chairmen is currently working out the agenda for the day. Concurrently, the President's Council is meeting with the President.

OFFICIAL COLLEGE NOTICE

No college classes will meet during the three-day Faculty Conference which is to be held on the new campus on Monday through Wednesday, March 24, 25, and 26.

Official college notices will be printed in this space regularly. All material which appears here comes to the Golden Gater directly from the Administration.

World Affairs Fellowships Offered

Five fellowships in international relations for graduate study during the 1952-53 school year have just been announced by the California Congress of Parents and Teachers. Four of the fellowships are for $1,000 each and are to be used for graduate study in the United States. One fellowship of $2,000 is for graduate study abroad.

The year's advanced work is to lead to a degree in international relations, government, or political science. The purpose of the grants is to encourage outstanding and well qualified young men and women to enter government service.

ONE YEAR ABROAD

In return for the grant, each recipient must be willing to serve for at least one year of the three immediately following the course of study in foreign affairs work for the United States Government or in some comparable field.

It was also announced that the Parent-Teachers organization intends to continue this international relations fellowship program in the following years.

FIVE FELLOWSHIPS

The five fellowships for next year will be awarded to students who are now enrolled in California colleges and universities. Graduating seniors and students already holding the bachelor's degree may apply for one of the grants.

Candidates must have received the undergraduate degree before July, 1952, must be American citizens under 30 years of age, and must have majored or demonstrated special interest in one or a combination of the social sciences, in foreign languages, or in other subjects directly relating to world affairs or international relations.

Further information and application forms may be obtained from Dr. Paul Ashby in CH205B. Applications must be returned to Dr. Ashby by April 15.

EDITORIALS

The Line Forms to the Right

Robert L. Katz, administrator of student affairs, should be commended for volunteering the use of his office and his services to any interested group that would like to form a committee to fight the recent action by the San Francisco Public Utilities Commission limiting half-fare rates on the Muni lines to students under 18.

Since this unfair ruling affects thousands of Staters, it follows that the student body should put aside its apathy and combine to see what can be done to mitigate the PUC's legislation.

If State students would rise to action, it might make the commission realize that college students are being punished for something they are not responsible for—the misuse of half-fare tickets by out of school adults.

College students, who are forced to economize, need the saving as much, if not more, than pupils under the age of 18 in public, private, and parochial schools do, and when the deadline date of March 24 rolls around, we will all be faced with an added financial burden.

We must make our feelings clear on this matter to the Public Utilities Commission. The best way to do that is to organize, and to organize, we should all meet at Bob Katz' office, Hut 4B, as soon as possible.

Looking Around...

By Robert E. Preble.

Last week we talked about two particular types of on-campus organizations, class groups and religious organizations. Today we want to consider two more, the fraternities and sororities, or rather, the honorary and the service groups. Let's take the honoraries first.

Probably the best known of all honorary societies is Phi Beta Kappa. We don't have a Phi Beta chapter here at State, but we do have 12 other honorary organizations. Their members are chosen from among the outstanding Staters in their respective field, and each and every group offers something worthwhile to the school as a whole.

For example, our local thespians have Alpha Psi Omega, and Alpha Mu Gamma rewards outstanding achievement in foreign languages. Alpha Phi Gamma is the honorary journalism fraternity. Alpha Chi Epsilon and Delta Phi Epsilon are honorary societies for women in the field of childhood education, while Kappa Delta Pi caters to both men and women. Gamma Sigma Pi works in the humanities and the arts, and Lambda Mu Delta (a new group this semester) is the honorary speech association. Phi Epsilon Mu and Phi Epsilon Gamma are the men's and women's P. E. honoraries, respectively. And the Honor S society recognizes outstanding service to the school, as does Sigma Alpha Eta, which each semester awards a scholarship to some outstanding and needy student.

Among the service fraternities we find Sigma Pi Sigma, which promotes school spirit among lower division men; Phi Eta Chi, dedicated to the advancement of scholastic excellence and school spirit; and Kappa Omega, which labors to advance interest and participation in the minor sports. Also, there are Delta Phi Gamma, the "firemen," and Delta Gamma Tau, the proud possessors of State's only fraternity house, who help with the orientation of new freshmen. Beta Chi Delta, interested in scholastic activity and athletics, and Alpha Zeta Sigma, which works to further scholastic standing and social welfare, complete the roster.

The ladies, too, are well represented in the service field. Alpha Chi Alpha maintains a dance sponsor list and holds a frosh-soph day for women. Alpha Omega is a fellowship organization, as is Phi Lambda Chi, which also helps during registration. Kappa Theta advances education, health and recreation; and Bib 'n' Tucker, in addition to making the gals style conscious, throws a Christmas party for children every year. Lastly, Sigma Delta Gamma awards a yearly scholarship and every Christmas takes up a collection for student welfare.

All told the fraternities number 25. There could (and should) be at least 25 more. Certainly, another national chapter or two on campus wouldn't hurt; every department in the college ought to support at least one honorary (for example, social sciences or natural sciences); and the possibilities for additional service organizations are unlimited. Also, we'd better have a couple more frat houses before the time comes to move out to sunny Lake Merced.

The only trouble is that it takes people to do these things. What about you? Are you doing your share? If not, why not? Get up off your duff and look around, people, look around!

Campus Chest Plans Now Underway To Benefit College Organizations

Plans are now underway for the Campus Chest Drive. Organizations benefiting from the drive will be the American Friends Service Committee, World Student Service Fund, 1952 Heart Fund, Welfare Fund, and others.

Containers will be placed in convenient locations on the campuses for the donations. A rally is being planned to create interest in the drive and to bring to the attention of the student body the importance of donating to the comprehensive fund drive.

Ralph Holden at Okinawa

Former State student Ralph W. Holden is now serving as a PFC with the Army on Okinawa. He is an ammunition bearer in the 29th Infantry Regiment's Company E.

Alexander Plans Summer Study of Margurite Islands

Mr. Charles H. Alexander of the college's geography department is going to tropical Margurite Island in the Carribean Sea this summer for a stay of perhaps six months. This is not going to be the pleasure trip it may seem. Mr. Alexander is going there to do research on his Ph.D. thesis for the University of California.

Mr. Alexander has chosen this island for many reasons. The most important is its isolation. It was one of the first settlements made by the Spaniards in the new world, being established in 1527. It played an important part in the salt trade of that century and then sank into virtual obscurity. The island is still owned by Venezuela, and the population is largely Spanish speaking. This will be no hardship for Mr. Alexander, who spent his childhood in Chile. He is going to live with a family on the island and do his research via bicycle from this home base.

ANCIENT CROPS

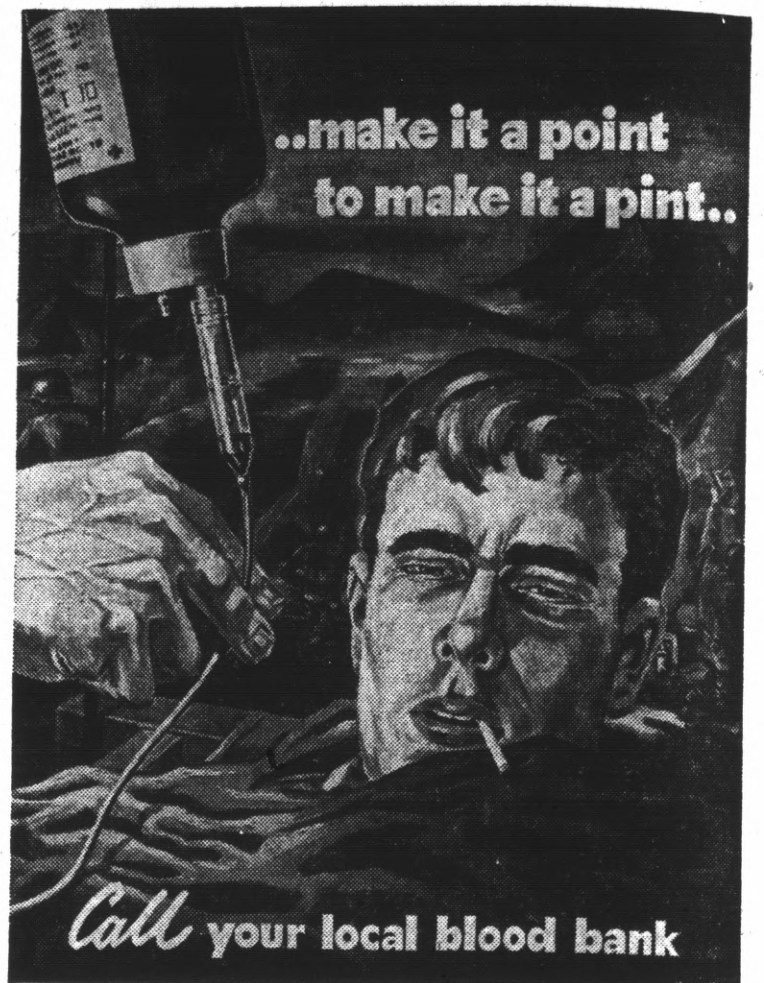

For his thesis Mr. Alexander plans to investigate several of the island's geographical aspects, the agricultural, the historical, and the geological. The island's isolated condition has led Mr. Alexander to believe that he may be able to find several pre-Columbian crops growing there in their natural state. Maiohote, a sorgum-like root crop from which a kind of bread called cassaba is made is the first of these. The two others are the grains, amaranth and chenopodin, which are cultivated extensively in Mexico and Central America, but which are not known to grow in their natural state in these areas.

HISTORICAL ENIGMA

The second part of the research Mr. Alexander plans to do concerns a historical enigma. There is some debate as to whether the Indian population of the island, numbering about one thousand, is the remnant of the original population, or whether these were entirely slaughtered by the invading Spaniards and replaced with slaves from the Bahama Islands. With his investigation Mr. Alexander hopes to clarify this question.

The third and last section of this research is going to be of a geological nature. Mr. Alexander is going to study the physical aspect of the island's make-up.—By Virginia Freeman.

Combat Veterans Collaborate On Poster Used By Red Cross

Ferdinand Castillo, graduate student at State, originated the slogan in the above poster which is now being used by the American Red Cross for their current national blood drive.

Two men who know the necessity of having a ready supply of blood to administer to wounded men in combat have recently completed a poster which makes a dramatic appeal for the life saver of the battlefield.

Andre Chappaz, an army veteran of the South Pacific campaigns, did the art work on the poster, while Ferdinand Castillo, a graduate student here, and former Marine raider in the island operations and in Korea, originated the slogan, "Make it a point to make it a pint."

GRADUATE WORK

Castillo, a graduate of the University of San Francisco, is now doing graduate work in physical education here. While at State, he has been president of the Newman Club and manager of the Gator swimming team. He is practicing teaching at a local high school.

During World War II, Castillo participated in several amphibious assaults on Japanese-held islands. Called to active duty with the Marine Corps shortly after the outbreak of the fighting in Korea, he served with the Seventh Marine Regiment, making the landing at Inchon, and surviving the fighting withdrawal from Hagaru-ri. He was wounded, but did not require blood transfusions. While in Korea, he saw countless men, who had been severely wounded, live because there was blood available.

ARMY ILLUSTRATOR

The artist, Andre Chappaz, who is currently working as an illustrator for the Sixth Army at the Presidio, served as an engineer during World War II. He completed the poster in mid-January of this year.

The poster is now being used by the American Red Cross in their present drive for whole blood.

Nelson Wins Bout; Advances to AAU Semi-Final Round

Ray Nelson, classy S. F. State middleweight, advanced to the semi-finals in the senior division of the National A. A. U. boxing tournament last Monday night when he grabbed a unanimous decision over highly touted Al Hudson of San Francisco. This year, the A. A. U. bouts are being held in San Francisco's own Winterland arena.

Nelson, three time Golden Gloves champion and All Navy champion, looked in top form as he outboxed, outmaneuvered, and outclassed Hudson. It was Bay's terrific left jab that clinched the victory for him.

Probably the best boxer that State has ever seen, Nelson has not fought much with the team this year because of the responsibility of a full time job.

Muddy Meet Today

Sadly Unprepared Thinclads Meet Marin and Menlo JC's

Today's three-way track meet at Cox Stadium will be held despite muddy grounds, Assistant Coach Joe Moore announced yesterday afternoon. Marin and Menlo Junior Colleges will meet the sadly unprepared Gator trackmen at 1:30.

The only consolation at this date is the fact that this track season is a long one, due to the late season Olympic games eliminations. The cinder artists have been able to do little less than limber up after a year long layoff. The field men have been completely boxed-in by the weather.

GOOD POTENTIAL

Once the weather clears, sure-fire speed will certainly be displayed by Len Posey and Earl Clayton, the Staters short sprint aces. These two boys have an eye cast toward Helsinki. Coach Kaufman is quite confident Posey can surpass his 9.6 hundred and 21.4 furlong times of the successful 1950 season.

An early season operation kept Posey from pushing Clayton too hard last year. With both boys in top shape the Gators will have a 1-2 punch that will be a threat in any league.

HIGH RATING

Especially hampered by the weather is hurdler Dick Storer; rated by Kaufman as "potentially, the finest high hurdler on the Coast." Reports from the "mist-shrouded" area are hopeful for the Gators in the one and two mile events. Dave Vickers, veteran distance ace, and newcomer Jim Shettler will give the locals a balance of strength in the track events.

The field events are unusually weak. The loss of Herb Franklin to the armed forces left the Staters without an outstanding performer in the field. Last year Franklin was among the ten leading javelinists on the Coast. He furthered the field cause by being a consistent point getter in the high jump.

LONE BROAD JUMP

Bruce Duncan returns to the pits and should better his mark of 12' 3" of last season. Leo Hinkle will have to "go it alone" in the broad jump. The year has finally arrived when Coach Kaufman will have to do without the services of four-time conference winner Bob Keropian in the broad jump. In the limited practice sessions Leo has been consistently leaping over the 21 foot mark.

POTENTIAL NETWORKEN SIGN UP FOR COURSE

SCHEDULE OF EVENTS

April 2, W.A.A. Basketball, U.C.

Baseballers Host Sacramento State In Doubleheader

San Francisco State's baseball team will play host to Sacramento State College in a double header Friday at 1:30 on the new campus. Little is known about the strength of the Capitol City nine at this time because rain has canceled much of their schedule.

Our own team will be taking to the field for the first time since a win over the Moffett Field Flyers a week ago. Tomorrow's game will give Coach Dick Boyle a chance to cut the team down to traveling strength and also to give a couple of the hotly contested positions wide open berth.

Next Wednesday the Gators meet the Treasure Island Pirates, last year's 12th Naval District Champions. To date, the Pirates under the coaching of Bill Conroy, former Boston Red Sox player, have dropped two games one to the University of California, 10-7, and the other to Contra Costa, 10-6, both formidable foes.

The Treasure Island team is bolstered by right fielder Norm Jursain, selected on the All Navy team last year, and formerly property of Salt Lake City in the Pioneer League. Returning veterans from last year's championship squad are the third baseman Robbie Lawrence, the team's leading hitter; shortstop Bob Reasonover, and second baseman Vince Caramango.

The game is scheduled for 2:30 p.m. on the 19th Avenue campus.

State Netmen Vie In Tennis Tourney

This weekend the annual intercollegiate tennis tournament sponsored by the Northern California Tennis Association will be held at Berkeley. The tournament, a four day affair, brings together the best college competition of the state.

Representing San Francisco State will be Dick Axtell, Tony Stratta, and Art Malley. Each man will compete individually, and Axtell and Stratta will also play in the doubles matches.

Coach Dan Farmer has no worry that his boys will make a good showing, but hastened to add: "Remember, the boys will be up against a top cross section of college players, a tough league!"

Swimmers Dip Navy, 52-32 In Fourth Win of Season

Win number four was recorded into the 1952 swimming record book Tuesday night, March 18. Site of the Gators' 52-32 triumph over Alameda Naval Air Station's "wave riders" was the luxurious 50-meter pool at Treasure Island. According to Coach Hal Harden, the Treasure Island tank, which is more than twice the length of State's pool, had a great deal of bearing on the times registered by the participants.

If it is possible to start a tradition, Bob Jimenez has accomplished the fact. Once again, the swimming sensation dashed to a double victory in the 50 and 100-yard free style attractions. Following behind Jimenez in the 100 was reliable Bob Northcutt, while Dave Deranleau placed third in the 50-yard event.

FIRST PLACE WINS

Five other Staters swam to first place triumphs. Bob Knapp garnered eight points with a win in the 220-yard free style and a second in the 440-yard event. Winner of the 440 was Al Zansky, who also finished second in the individual medley. Norm Stupfel won top honors in the 100-yard breaststroke. The relay combination of Northcutt, Deranleau, Knapp, and Jimenez was triumphant. Most impressive victor of the meet was Bill Blair. Winner of the individual medley, Blair registered his best time of the season.

Ron Penzel placed second in the diving competition. Bill Camp and Al Stockard finished third in the 100-yard backstroke and breaststroke, respectively.

DAVIS MATCH TODAY

This afternoon the squad travels to Davis for a 4:30 return engagement with the Cal Aggies. In their initial outing, State won an easy 55-29 decision. However, Coach Harden is looking forward to a tougher match as he will be minus the services of Bill Blair and Bob Cunningham.

More Losers Cry as Time Goes By

It ain't true that Hut 4A practices "finders keepers, losers weepers." Those mink coats that are worn and the "Cads" that are driven by the administrators and workers in the hut are bought out of their meager salaries. As of this date, there is no known organized ring operating in the disposal of lost and found articles. But, from the steady flow of losers into the hut on the prowl to redeem their lost possessions, it seems like it could be a profitable enterprise.

Practice a little caution and all this business can be eliminated. Treat each text book like it were a five dollar bill. In fact, sometimes a book is worth more than a fiver. Did you ever stop to think that the bookstore may run out of that text that you want to replace? You didn't? Silly boy! In any event, print the old hotel slogan on your rain coat, i.e., "Have you forgotten anything?" Surely, you wouldn't lose your rain coat this season! This slogan will act as a reminder to you when you leave each class or the coop to pick up all your items, including wallets, purses, bankbooks, etc. Some people are mighty careless about those things.

Oh yes, Jack Healy reports there are three raincoats that have been turned into the lost and found department in Hut 4A.—By Herb Colton.

It Says Here ...Campus Notes

By Joyce McElhinney

I wish to extend my humble apologies to Norry Volk for the error I made in last week's column. Liz Wood and Barbara Litchfield are president and secretary, respectively, of I.S.S.C., but Norry Volk is president of I.F.S.C.—a separate organization.

Leave us not forget. Tonight is the night: "Sweet Shop Hop," presented by Kappa Theta. All invited.

Still more new officers:

Delta Phi Gamma: President, Norry Volk; vice president, Earle Clayton; corresponding secretary, Gil Perry; recording secretary, Ron Kasabian; treasurer, Stan Fabiano; sergeant-at-arms, Chris Maris; and historian, Walt Pudlow-ski.

Kappa Theta: President, Beatrice MacDougall; vice president, Doris Cooney; recording secretary, Judy Pors; corresponding secretary, Candy Himes; treasurer, Yvonne Milkovich; and sergeant-at-arms, Barbara Litchfield.

Sigma Delta Gamma: President, Nancy Cooper; vice president, Babs Mickelbook; recording secretary, Anita Kidwell; corresponding secretary, Dolores Buzdon; treasurer, Lorene Gregory; C.A.A. representative, Kathy Gruner; and historian, Ruby Collins.

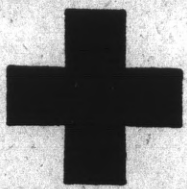

Formal pledging exercises for Sigma Pi Sigma were held last Monday night, March 17. A celebrity among their neophytes, George Wehner, played varsity football for St. Mary's not so long ago.

Members of Sigma Pi Sigma and Alpha Chi Alpha are making plans for a joint beach party Tuesday, March 25. Sounds like fun.

April 19 has been chosen for the wedding date of Harriet Hawkins and Dino Danas. They announced their engagement last semester.

Don't mean to cut this enormous student body, but think it's a darn shame that there isn't greater participation in the activities at the Rec Center. Seems that the members promoting the activities provide fun and activity Tuesday through Friday from 12 to 2, and no one shows up. That's fine! Hope to see a few more smiling Gater faces attending in the future.

Two State Alumni To Participate in Coro Internships

Two alumni of San Francisco State College, Herb Wegner and Jerry Jones (class of '51), are currently participating in the Coro Internships in Municipal Affairs. These internships are designed to give experience in Municipal government and public affairs.

Wegner was a government major at State, and participated on the executive council here for three of the four terms he attended. He had previously spent two years at San Mateo Junior College. As further extra-curricular activity he had held four student body offices, including rally commissioner, editor of the student handbook, business manager of the Franciscan, and dormitory representative.

Jerry Jones got his A.B. in liberal arts, majoring in social science and English. He came to S. F. State after receiving an A.A. degree from Pasadena Junior College. He was a member of Interclub Council, and a delegate to the Collegiate U. N. Conference, Stanford University, last year.

Wagner, Jones, and a third intern are working together on the Lafayette - Orinda Incorporation Study.

Many S. F. State students have become acquainted with the foundation through its "Laboratory Course in Municipal Affairs," given each spring and fall for undergraduate students of bay area colleges. This undergrad course is being offered again, with the first meeting scheduled for April 1. Those interested should contact Mr. Leo Cagan of the Political Science Department.

Mar. 28 Deadline For Badminton

Men interested in participating in intramural badminton this spring are urged to sign up at the Director of Intramurals office (new campus) before the deadline, Friday, March 28.

Competition will be held in two classes, novice and All Sports. The novice event is a singles tournament, while the All Sports tourney is strictly a team affair, with the winning teams receiving points toward the All Sports trophy. Entrants may participate in both events, however.

Signups are now being taken for volleyball at the new campus. The last day for signups in this sport will be April 1. The Volleyball team tournament will be held in conjunction with the Speedball league games, but the contests will not conflict, according to volleyball manager, Jean Franceschi.

Speedball games scheduled for next week are as follows:

Thursday, March 27—Kappa Omega vs. Alpha Zeta Sigma; Balboa A. C. vs. D. G. T.

Friday, March 28—Bears vs. Cubs; Beavers vs. Lions.

STUDENTS GRADE PROFESSORS

San Francisco State Adopts Instructor Rating

Students, grade your professors! It's no joke. San Francisco State College is one of the few colleges in the nation which has adopted the progressive idea of rating the instructors on their ability to teach.

About 1931, Professor Franz Schneider of the German department of the University of California began a campaign to have circulated mimeographed sheets on which the students could tell just what they thought of their professors, and just how they thought these profs could improve their teaching methods.

COLLEGE INTEREST

Many colleges heard about the professor's campaign, and wrote him for information. Soon Schneider became the center of campaigns around the classes in an attempt to determine which teachers are really teachers, and which just spend time instructing classes because they have to.

Few colleges had the nerve to enact his proposals. Not many professors wanted to know what the students really thought of them. The University of Washington was an exception. They found out all they could about the professor's ideas, and enacted them.

San Francisco State carries out Professor Schneider's recommendations to a modified extent. Student reaction sheets are passed out in several classes at the end of the semester, and students are requested to fill in the answers, grading on five varying degrees of competency, from excellent to poor. They are asked questions concerning the prof's teaching habits, presentability, fairness, and so on.

The result has been that San Francisco State is a school where the instructors are teachers, ones who know how to make a point and put it over.

LIFE'S WORK

The tragic thing about the campaign of Professor Schneider is that the school toward which it was directed has failed to employ the ideas he set forth.

Schneider has, for the past 20 years, given liberally of his time and his money in the publication of two books, many pamphlets and booklets, and in discussions and speeches on the subject. Yet, despite his efforts, the University of California remains a school which many of the students consider a "mass education factory" with a large percentage of "non-teaching teachers."—By Dale Tussing.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 36...THE OTTER

A usually mild-mannered and easy-going lad, he really made the fur fly when he realized the trickiness of most of the so-called cigarette mildness tests! He knew there was one honest test of cigarette mildness. Millions of smokers everywhere know, too — there's one true test!

It's the sensible test . . . the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke — on a pack-after-pack, day-after-day basis. No snap judgments! Once you've tried Camels in your "T-Zone"

(T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why . . .

After all the Mildness Tests . . .

Camel leads all other brands by billions
